Judges' Decision in Last Race Causes Dissatisfaction.

racing at Brighton had its effect on the manwas of the seaside track is evidenced by dealt with Jockey Willie Martin and his employer, Eugene Leigh, at Brighton yesterday.

Martin was summarily ruled off for pulling Ma Belle, and Mr. Leigh was informed that his ream was decidedly preferable to his and cannot be too strongly commended for their timely action. To permit such a palpable case of fraud to pass by coheeded would have worked incalculable injury to the track. It is to be hoped that the judges will not relax their vigilance, for there are a few more owners and jockeys who are playor later burn their fingers.

The race in which the officials took action was the fifth, and the writer can truthinly say that a more curious race was never witnessed. In the first place it was common talk in the ring that Ma Belle was ucad to Azrael. In explanation, this means that if Azrael could win, Ma Belle would not. Notwithstanding this the books held Ma Helle at a short price. The money came in on Azrael at great rate. At first it was said that Mr. Dwyer's commissioners played Fagot, but afterwards switched to Azrael and pounded the latter all over the ring. This made it lookas though Fagot had also been stiffened. The rase looked that way also. Azrael and Grochet made the running, while Fagot and Ma Belle laid away, their riders making no exertion. Half way around young lambley realized evidently that unless he hade a move he'd get into trouble. He suddenly drove apurs into Fagot and sent him on, never stopping his exertions until the winning post was passed. Martin never made an effort with Ma Belle and the spectators hissed him when he returned to the scales. Judge Wheeler immediately notified him to appear before the Executive Committee and that body promptly ruled Martin off. Mr. Leigh was warned to take his horses of the traca. Dwyer's commissioners played Fagot, but af-

The judges gave a decision in the steeple-chase yeaterday which caused universal dissatisfaction among the bettors. Clamor, who was well played 1-2-3, fell at the nurtle along the backstretch and threw his jockey. The horse got up, ran about fur yards and then stopped. His jockey was unfaurt, and going after Clamor he remounted, book the rest of the jumps and cantered in for third money. The judges, however, retused to isace him thirly, chaining that he did not go the course. This did not seem fair to the 1-2-3 bettors, but following the rules strictly the decision of the judges was right. The bekey should have taken Clamor over the jump at which he rell and then gone on over the course. Ally lakeland and one or two others saw the mistake the jockey had made, and shouted to him to puil up, but he paid no heed and finished. He was necessarily disqualified.

Sennett and Warne, the owners of Eclipse, Teutonic and other horses, who were ruled off at Guttenburg last winter for crooked work with Teutonic, came to grief again yesterday at Washington Park. They were warned that their custries would not be received. Eclipse has been running very queerly, and Judge Burke evidently came 12 the conclusion that his owners were playing the same game that they played with Teutonic last Winter.

Daiy paid £4.125 for a yearling coil by Hamp-ton, out of Cherry, by Sterling.

The Brighton Beach management should certainly widen their track on the back-stretch and on the turns. There is no reason why this should not be done. There is plenty of space between the outside rail and the fence

The verdict was halled with positive joy by horsemen. Generally some one has a good word for a ruled-off boy, but it was not so in Martin's case. The writer talked with several turnen last night, and it was the universal opinion that Martin should have been ruled off long ago.
